

Amy Mueller
Chief of Staff

Amy Mueller co-founded Texas 2036 along with Tom Luce and Kathryn Lake in the fall of 2016. In this role, Amy wears many hats, from fundraising and outreach, special projects, HR and benefits, to legal, financial and policy work.

Previously, Amy practiced law in the Dallas offices of both Patton Boggs LLP and McGuireWoods LLP as a corporate attorney. Her legal practice focused on private equity, venture capital, hedge fund and sovereign wealth fund representation. During this time, she represented several of the world's largest sovereign wealth funds located in the Middle East, as well as some of Texas' most successful private equity funds. She has expertise in fund formation, investor side representation, and mergers and acquisitions, including work on both the debt and equity side of transactions. Amy developed a passion for public policy during her time at UT, working in the offices of State Senator Jane Nelson and current Speaker of the Texas House Joe Straus.

Amy earned a B.S. summa cum laude from the University of Texas at Austin and a juris doctorate cum laude from SMU Dedman School of Law. She and her husband, Bryce, live in Dallas and are the proud new parents of their very happy and smiley young daughter, Milly Kate. Amy loves to run, travel, and spend time with her family, and acts as a guardian ad litem for local children in foster care. Amy is proud to be working for an organization working to make Texas a better state to live and work for future generations like her daughter, who will graduate high school in 2036.
